Vision Specialists

Highly regarded throughout the industry for providing knowledgeable, friendly, and customer focused service for over 25 years. Multipix is not just distributor, we very much like to be thought of as vision specialists, recommending, supplying and supporting machine vision components, offering in-depth technical know-how and sharing real-world applications experience.

Multipix is wholly owned by its 2 directors. Simon Hickman (MD) has an Engineering degree and a wealth of knowledge gained from 25 years at a high level in the Machine Vision industry. Together with James Stouse (FD) who has a background in Corporate Accounting, it is a great combination to lead Multipix into the future.

ISO9001 - 2015 CERTIFIED

With ISO9001 accreditation, part of the ongoing commitment is that the management continually reviews procedures, ensuring development of skills and maintaining standards to achieve operational excellence that benefits Multipix Imaging, our suppliers and customers alike.

Multipix have been supporting my team in our multinational engineering consultancy. Multipix do not simply provide us with vision equipment, they provide detailed technical support and facilitate my team meeting equipment manufacturers or other vision integrators where appropriate. Their technical staff and sales staff are personable, efficient and professional. It is truly a pleasure to work with Multipix.– WN
